Everyone Enjoys Summer Vacation

TIME IN THE SUN

Summer is a fun time for everyone. Going on vacation, doing whatever you want to, and best of all, no school! Going to the beach is always a big hit. Joining all of your friends and enjoying the sun.

Everyone loves the summer sports. One of the most popular sports around Redmond is waterskiing. Taking a day out on the boat, and spending the day in the sun, is what everyone looks forward to in the summer. Ron Beversdorf says "Waterskiing is my favorite summer sport."

Vacationing is always fun in the summer. There are times when you feel like getting away from everything. Going to warm beaches and sunny spots or just going on a family trip. Mike Magnussen says "London is my favorite vacation spot."

There is always a scramble for summer jobs. "My summer job is a great way to get money for the school year." says Robin O'Keefe.

"Waterskiing is my favorite sport." —Ron Beyersdorf

Redmond High students get summer jobs just for something to do, but the extra money is always helpful. Basically, summer is just a time for relaxation and time away from school.

Fashion Makes Way For Individuality.

86-87

The word "fashion" is often linked with the word "trend," especially in high school. Trends spread quickly through the halls of a school, and as quickly as they appear, they are gone.

Students at Redmond seem to break away from that stereotype. All have a sense of individuality, and many express it through their clothing. Basically it is a personal choice, and each student's dress is unique, representing the vast range of personalities.

"We've come a long way from the cookie-cutter fashion mode," said Marianne Moshier. "It has become individual."

Any school year at RHS would not be complete without certain fashion ins and outs, but we should be proud to say that at Redmond we have reached a level of maturity where individuality is in.

As Carrie Taylor puts it, "It's good to know that I can wear whatever I feel comfortable in. I don't have to worry about being in or out."

"We've come a long way from that cookie-cutter fashion mode."
—Marianne Moshier

Being comfortable is just one more thing that helps create our cheery, spirited atmosphere, and the fashion scene definitely seems to play a role in keeping it that way.

Exchange Students Come To Redmond High School

GERMANS VISIT

This year there was an outstanding amount of participation in the Exchange Student Program. Most of the students are from Germany and the program is through Juanita High School. The exchange students came here from different parts of Germany and stay with someone here for six months.

In general, the exchange students enjoy staying here. It is a new and exciting experience. Some things that we do here are difficult for the German Students to adapt to. Leaving their families and coming to a totally new culture is a very adventurous, but frightening experience. Redmond High School gave the students a warm welcome and many will find it difficult to leave their new friends. Juliane Weber feels, "The differences between Germany and America are funny, everybody talks about driving and the school systems are different."

Overall, all the exchange students enjoy the school here and feel welcome. The Redmond High Students that are hosting the Germans are looking forward to going to visit and tour Germany. Many of the German Students would like to return to America and visit many other parts of the United States. This program provides a great learning experience and should be continued in Germany and other parts of the world.

The Mustang mosaic shows school spirit.

Redmond Mustangs are here to stay.

Unique things about R.H.S. to look back on.

WHERE IT'S AT

In the years past, graduated students have looked back and tried to remember the basic features of their school. Students remember the exciting times at the football games, yet many forget the special things around school.

Redmond High's art such as, the murals or the mustang mosaic is connected with school spirit. Some people might find discussing art a little boring and they don't really care about the signs and the murals of their school. However, it is not what these things are, it is what they represent that is important. These murals, signs and the mosiac are symbolic of the High School.

The art at Redmond High School shouldn't be the only things to look back thirty years from now. Think of the school lockers that was shared with a friend and all the things done to it

"It's not the thing itself—it's the symbol, the spirit, and the heart."
-Tom Smith

to make it look original.

One thing that many students will probably remember, was the parking ordeal. These memories will definately be remembered when Redmond High Students look back at their school.

PLACES TO SOCIALIZE

Redmond High Students have long been discouraged with the poor selection of nighttime activities in their city. When thinking of nightlife, they now expand their horizons to activities in Kirkland, Bellevue, and Seattle. Redmond does offer a few interesting hangouts, but most are used as a last resort.

Kirkland's Park Place Cinemas gathers RHS students Monday and Tuesday nights for low cost movies and social atmosphere. The various docks on Kirkland's waterfront draw couples in the mood for romance.

Bellevue offers variety of movie theaters and nice restaurants to our students. It also has bowling alleys for those in the competitive spirit.

In Seattle, one can always find exciting nightlife. Seattle Center has plenty of activities, the Fun Forest, Food Circus, and Laserium. There are also various streets for cruising.

For our dancers at RHS, Encore in Renton, and The Rage in Seattle are the hot spots for dancing.

"There ain't much nightlife in Redmond, but each crowd will always find something to do." Darren Remer

Although Redmond will probably always be lacking in the category of nightlife, the various nighttime activities in nearby cities keep RHS students satisfied.

The senior spirit pulls through another spectacular assembly.

Assemblies Strike Up Spirit.

JUNGLE FUN

"Jungle Days" came to a good start with teacher dress up day. The Staff with their safari hats and gear brought spirit and lots of laughs to the students for the beginning of Homecoming week. The rest of the week was the student's turn to show their spirit. Sophomores dressed as tarzanians, Juniors came from Gilligans island and Seniors came as safari hunters. It was quite a sight to see the many creative costumes shown throughout the halls.

Assemblies also got off on the right foot with the swinging and swaying of the cheerleader's dance that turned on the excitement and suspense of the royalty nominee presentation. Soon after laughs echoed through out the gym as Mr. Hargraves, Mr. Starret and Ms. Hunter presented their hilarious football skit. As the Homecoming week progressed the real excitement came on Homecoming game day. After the class skits the royalty finalists were announced and the king, Stormy Shouman, was crowned. The kickoff assembly, which brought on much school spirit, started the fun and smiles for the Homecoming activities yet to come.

Jungles Days Made Homecoming 1986 Memorable.

WILD TIMES AT R.H.S.

The Homecoming theme, "Jungle Days", began with activities such as the popular class dress-up days and the mural competition. They were followed by the canned-food drive, the exciting pep rally and the hilarious class skits.

Friday's Round-up festivities had fantastic participation by the classes and organizations. The senior class mud wrestling contest was among the most popular and was also the dirtiest.

Friday night was the big football game against Bothell. Redmond played hard and it showed. After three overtimes, Redmond won 24 to 23. It was a very exciting and successful game. The band entertained the crowd at halftime, followed by the Homecoming Royalty introductions. Tami Dyer, 1985's Homecoming Queen, crowned Ashley Raby Homecoming Queen for 1986.

"It was dazzleing and very spirited! Best Homecoming ever!"

JUNGLE DAYS

"Jungle Days" was this year's theme for a very spirited Homecoming at Redmond High. It began with the dress up days, then mural competitions followed by the class canned food drive. Instead of the popular bonfire, Redmond had an all school talent show which had a lot of participation. Then came the ever so common class and faculty skits that kept the students laughing.

Friday's round up was a great success. The most popular event of the day was the faculty mud wrestling competition. The scrambling of the participants brought loud chuckles from the crowd.

The night's big Homecoming game against the Bothell Cougars was one that will be remembered and the words stated by Jon Bean said it all, "It was very intense and exciting."

Redmond played hard and came out on top. With three overtimes, senior quarterback, Rick Meuller made three successful passes to pull out a 24-23 victory over Bothell.

"...it kept the fans on the edge of their seats."
-Jon Bean

All in all with the activities from dress up day to skits and fireworks to Royalty, this years Homecoming closed with a "jungle" beat of fun!

The Seniors Swing Into Jungle Days

GO SAFARI

Here the seniors made over $420 selling various goodies.

Homecoming was a huge success over past years. The seniors in particular made $428 profit just on their booth.

The seniors worked hard to win every competition. "Homecoming was fun and successful in promoting school spirit," stated Jon Bean,

On dress up day, the seniors "went to the jungle" for the theme of "Safari". There were some bushes, trees and jungle explorers roaming the halls. "They were hoping for more people to dress up, but the people that did participate were fantastic," quoted Gina Evanson.

The skit went over well. It was about how the Bothell football team captured the RHS cheerleaders and took them into the jungle. The RHS football team then rescued the cheerleaders and they all lived happily ever after.

"Homecoming was fun and successful in promoting school spirit."
Jon Bean

All in all, the mural and the other competitions, including the float, the seniors obviously came out ahead of the rest. They should be proud with the effort they put forth in making this homecoming a memorable one.

Gene Siskel and Roger Ebert give the sophomore skit a thumbs up.

Sophomore Homecoming was a big success. The Class of '89 showed that they had spirit and enthusiasm. Although seniors won all of the activities, sophomores produced good materials as well as spirit throughout the week of Homecoming.

Their spectacular mural, which demonstrated creativity and originality placed second overall. On Wednesday, October 22, many sophomores appeared dressed as jungle men and women. The sophomore skit was an amusing replica of the Dating Game. A dunk tank raised money for the Sophomore Class. The sophomore's food drive was successful in bringing in a great deal of food for the needy. Chosen for Sophomore Royalty were Chris Wright as Duke, and Angie Sheron as Dutchess.

Matt Lehambauer expressed his feelings about Homecoming, "It was a wonderful happening."

This comment and others indicated the interest that the sophomores had in the 1986 Homecoming. Those who were involved with Homecoming experienced one of the most exciting events that happens every year at Redmond High.

JUNIOR FUN

"Homecoming is always an exciting time of year for everyone," summed up Junior, Jennifer Muenze. The Juniors' theme, Gilligan's Island proved to be a very versatile one. They started out well at the kick off assembly by challenging the Seniors to a rowdy yell off. During the junior's dress up day many juniors could be seen as they "cast away" from class to class in elaborate shipwreck attire. Although they contributed a lot to the overall Homecoming they meritted only third place in the competition.

The float proved to be a great success. It consisted of Gilligan's hut and rivaled the Seniors for the first place ribbon. Other activities well worked on were the mural and booths. The class of '88 worked hard to help make Homecoming a memorable and successful one. Even though they tied the Sophomores for second place, the over all feeling was a satisfying one for the Junior class.

Next year promises to be a spirit filled year for the class of 1988.

JUNGLE DANCE SWINGS HIGH

The Homecoming Dance was the perfect time for everyone to dress their best, dance all night, and socialize with their friends.

The dance was presented by the ASB and Abatron. Decorations in the cafeteria and commons displayed the Homecoming theme of Jungle Days. Abatron, the group that did the recorded music, played good, modern songs that students enjoyed. Pictures were offered to the many people who wanted them by Christopher's.

For most students, the exciting evening started out at their favorite fine dining restaurant. Then, after a delicious dinner, they arrived to the dance at eight o'clock, some in classy limousines. Hundreds of finely dressed students crowded into the transformed school. The commons turned into a congregating place for people to talk with friends or just be alone with their date. The cafeteria, lit by Abatron's dim lights, invited students to dance to some of their favorite songs.

"The dancing, the music, and the people were terrific."
-Chrissy Violante

The fun dance finally came to an end at midnight. The happy couples slowly left, taking all of the memories of the 1986 Homecoming Dance with them.

JUNGLE BEAUTY

As the music of the Redmond High Band filled the stands, eight Corvettes passed the spirited crowd. Fans cheered as the Royalty drove by and the escorts helped their partners out of the cars onto the track. In their best evening attire, they stood. Ashley Raby, Kelly Land, Trisha Iboshi, Kelly Burgess, Shelley Eberhardt, and Melanie Bull were the Senior princess finalists. They were escorted by Stormy Shouman, Brian Clark, Dean Banks, Fred Mazzafero, Kenny Williams and J.D. Schampera. Cinque Finnie and Sarah Erdahl were junior prince and princess, and Chris Wright and Angie Sheron were named sophomore duke and duchess.

The announcing of the Homecoming queen finally came as former 1985-86 Queen Tami Dyer approached the track. The crowd went wild as the crown was placed upon the new queen's head. Stormy Shouman previously that day crowned king at the Homecoming Assembly, stood next to the new Homecoming Queen Ashley Raby. Senior Stacee Pistole summed it all up in these words, "Homecoming royalties really added to the excitement of the half-time events."

Officers And Cabinet Members Make A Successful Year

DOING IT WITH STYLE

The senior year gives many opportunities for students to get involved. A group of these seniors were the senior class officers. They were: President-David Byrne, Vice-president-Mike Magnussen, Secretary-Melanie Bull, Treasurer-Jon Bean, and Senators-Deanne Rue and Ashley Raby.

This year, the cabinet members helped a great deal. They were involved with decision making, producing ideas, and participated in all of the Homecoming preparations. Many times the officers would not have finished without their help according to Ashley Raby. The advisors of the senior class were Ken Roberts, Michele D'Amico, and Pete Barrett. "They far exceeded my expectations of them," stated Mr. Roberts.

Due to hardwork and dedication the senior class placed first in all of the events of Homecoming. During Roundup, the officers and cabinet members organized a variety of booths that raised over $500 for Homecoming. The seniors were also in charge of running the concession stand during the football season. The money from that was used for different senior activities. When asked what made them work so well together Jon Bean said, "We just had that special chemistry." With that chemistry they worked together to make a great senior year!

"We're one big, happy, rockin' family!"

NAME: Susan Nelson
NICKNAMES: Susie Suz Sushi Benji
HIGHLIGHTS:
We started out
So scared and unsure
Of what we were
To face;

We struggled through
The first few days
Until we felt
Secure;

We made new friends
And lost some old
But through it all
We learned;

To laugh and cry
And just survive
Doing the best
We could;

The time has come
To again start anew
In a new world
We cannot know;

And so before
We all take flight
And leave our friends
Behind;

I'd like to give
A caring hug
To all of those
I've loved.

To all those I've known, and those I haven't yet — Thank You — I Love You!!!

What will your future hold? DETENTION SURVIVAL SKILLS! Brown-nosing tips

HOW TO BE A Teacher's Pet

Always raise your hand when the teacher asks a question.

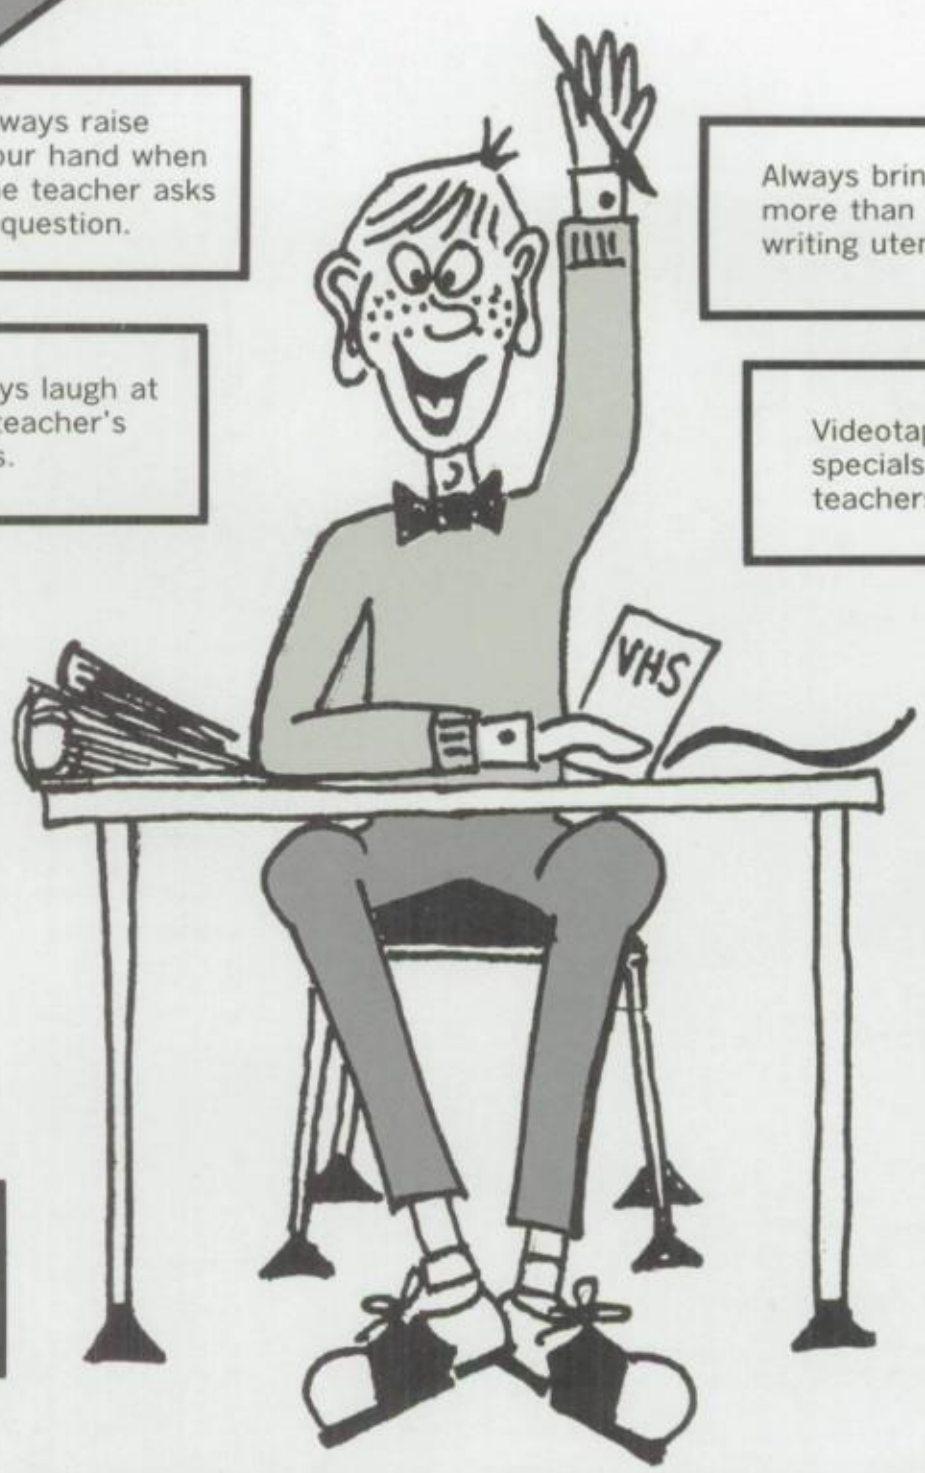
Always laugh at the teacher's jokes.

Keep a well organized notebook.

Memorize the class expectations.

Create a computer program grading system and give a copy to your teachers.

Join several accademic clubs.



Always bring more than one writing utensil.

Videotape PBS specials for your teachers.

Do extra-credit reports on your computer.

Never lean back on your chair, or sit on desks.

Bring holiday gifts for your teachers, or give them Christmas cards.

DRAWING CONTEST

Draw your favorite administrator!

"Siddie"

"Murphy"

12 EASY WAYS TO SURVIVE DETENTION

1. Draw characatures of teachers and administrators.
2. Practice bird calls.
3. Practice ventriliquism.
4. Play dot to dot on sleeping freckled people.
5. Write lewd messages upsidedown on your calculator and pass it to the person sitting closest to you.
6. Paint your eyelids to look like open eyes, then, take a nap.
7. Plot your revenge on the teacher who gave you the detention.
8. Let loose a jar of grasshoppers.
9. Flick little pieces of old dry gum that you have been picking off from under your desk across the room.
10. Play finger football with a do-it-yourself paper football.
11. Write an anonymous suggestive note and send it to someone, then watch their reaction.
12. Pretend to have a dramatic epileptic seizure.

For The Year of 1987 . . .

HOROSCOPE

ARIES

You are in full command. The new moon beams on every aspect of your life, including all business ventures. If you haven't already been, you probably will be swept off your feet by that special somebody. Avoid acting self-centered, this could cause friction in your relationships.

TAURUS

Start enjoying the artistic things in life. Prepare yourself for Cupid's arrow, and a new flirtation. Your career will take off, and if you've been feeling under the weather, your vitality will soon be restored. Increase the quality of life by opening your doors to family and friends.

GEMINI

You're at your best! You can smooth-talk your way through anything. Your intelligence and bubbly personality may win a much needed patron or benefactor. Don't neglect monetary matters though. You might end up in a delicate domestic phase when you'll ponder family ties.

CANCER

Communications are destined to be successful. You'll be articulate: Speak out. Scrutinize finances to make sure you're getting the most for your money. Assess your love life. Decide whether you and your partner are matched. If, not find a new partner.

LEO

You're naturally creative and your talents will find an original outlet. Your ability to express yourself will be enhanced. However, you still have a tendency towards self doubt: Don't give in to it. Be prepared for a confrontation with someone who is being difficult.

VIRGO

You're entering a serious phase where thoughts about the future preoccupy your time. Try not to let this hamper your having fun. You will be bursting with ideas at work, but on the homefront will feel restricted and underpressure. You're persuasiveness should help control domestic difficulties.

LIBRA

Get ready for some romance. Be spontaneous, then come down to earth. Concentrate on your career; it's a good time for a job change. There could be tension at home caused by feelings of insecurity. You can look forward to an exciting social life.

"We're time trippin'. What year is this?"

SCORPIO

Strong feelings of frustration could be the cause of a gloomy cloud that's hanging over you. An out-and-out fight will only further complicate the matters. Just keep your head high and persue new possibilities in your personal life. You are on the way to a total metamorphis.

SAGITTARIUS

Seize any opportunity to travel, because you're seeing the world more clearly than ever. Your knack for showing up at all the right places could lead to positive changes. A relationship that you thought to be purely platonic could prove to be otherwise.

CAPRICORN

A highly emotional period will leave you with negative feelings. You'll be annoyed by friends who appear to be self-important. Avoid overreacting — it could be you that's at fault. Your moral fiber may be tested; Stick closely to your principles, and don't fall prey to guilt.

AQUARIUS

The new moon adds spice to your love life. You could be whisked off into the wild blue yonder. You might need to assess whether others are perceiving you the way you want them to; and a problem with some kind of bureaucracy could make you uncomfortable.

PISCES

You're in for a disappointment when you realize that someone is not the person who you hoped he or she was. Since leopards don't change their spots, end this relationship before you get hurt. Start realizing cherished dreams, as long as they're on firm ground.

Cinque Finnie and Heidi Lewis are unsure of the proposed fund raiser brought up in a meeting.

Travis Wandell and Yumiko Shinoda decide on the future events for the junior class.

The class of 1988 gets involved.

MOTIVATED JUNIORS

The 1986-87 junior class officers made this year successful as they encouraged enthusiasm of their class. The officers were: Cinque Finnie, president; Travis Wandell, vice president; Amy Kelleran, secretary; Yumiko Shinoda, treasurer; and Heidi Lewis and Jennifer Raby, senators. The cabinet members consisted of the cabinet representative Barry Wood, Liz Clark, Sara Erdahl, Ethan Lynette and Jennifer Muenze.

One of the greatest accomplishments of the junior officers was their participation in Homecoming. During the first Homecoming assembly, the juniors proved they were the most spirited when they won the class cheer contest trophy. Later on in the week, the junior skit turned out to be very successful as well as funny. Without their excellent spirit, motiviation, and participation, the juniors would not have had such a successful Homecoming.

The junior class advisors were Mr. Foster and Mrs. Kocher. "The juniors were a really motivated group this year," stated Mr. Foster.

"We want to involve the junior class."
-Travis Wandell

Because of the junior's spirit this year, many accomplishments have been made that would not have been possible without their enthusiasm.

SOPHOMORES

Outing and hardworking students make the best class officers, which is what this year's sophomores were. These officers are: Doak Dyer, President; Billy Serres, Vice-President; Holly Yip, Secretary; Kelly Wilk, Treasurer; and Stephanie Gerber, Senator.

Every year the officers, along with the Sophomore Class, get involved in the Homecoming activities. They set up booths, do skits, paint murals, create floats and do many other projects. Their "Jungle Men and Women" theme was a good variation of the "Jungle Days" theme of the whole school. During that week of festivities, they managed to tie the juniors for second place in the class competitions. "There was more spirit in this year's sophomores than in the past," stated Doc Salisbury.

"Even though being an officer takes a lot of hard work and dedication, it can be fun and rewarding. It's also a good way to get involved in your school," added Vice President Billy Serres. By having as much commitment as the sophomore officers did, they were able to build and expand as the year progressed.

ADMINISTRATION

To get anything accomplished, with some amount of order, the administrative and counseling teams have to work together. Each department has its own jobs to attend to, although they sometimes blend together.

The administrators include: Tom Murphy, Principal; Kathy Siddoway, Vice-Principal; Lynn Shebilske, Dean of Students; and Denny Rieger, Activities Coordinator. These hard-working educators take time to work with the students on their level. According to Mr. Murphy "We've really had a very good school year. The students seem to be more spirited and involved."

Counselors are here to help the students with their personal and academic problems, or just to talk with. The counselors for this year are: Freddie Denton, Marilyn Hargraves, Anita Page, Louise Sheeley and Chuck Telford.

The secretaries are just as important as the other administrators. Otherwise, how else would you get excused from class? There are many secretaries to get you where you are going (on time).

Overall, the administrative and counseling departments are a very important part of life at Redmond High.

"We've really had a very good school year." — Mr. Murphy

A GREAT TEAM

Our custodial and kitchen staffs were a vital part of making the 86-87 school year run smoothly. Not only did our custodians keep Redmond High clean, but they were always helpful and friendly when students needed assistance.

Dave Dennis, our head custodian, said "I think RHS students are super neat people. Good luck in the future."

Tami Munson, an RHS senior stated, "I like Dave."

These comments and others demonstrated the mutual friendship between the students and staff.

Year round the custodians have kept our school a pleasant place to come to each day. Most students have just taken them for granted, but without them, things would have fallen apart very quickly.

And what would all those hungry students have done each day for breakfast and lunch without the talented kitchen crew? Each day they supplied students with chocolate chip cookies, pizzas, french fries, salads, and a wide variety of other foods. And for those cold mornings, there was always a fresh, hot cup of coffee waiting.

"I think Betty Newman treats the students considerately, not like cafeteria animals."

MATH DEPARTMENT

What was the theme of the Math Department for the 1986-87 school year? According to the department head Mr. Everett Gilbert it was self discipline, "In order for students to understand math they have to have self discipline. They have to work hard every day to learn what is being taught."

Mr. Gilbert became once again the head of the math department in place of Mr. Pat Magdall who was head for six years. Mr. Gilbert had held that position before Mr. Magdall for 15 years.

Many different math classes are offered at Redmond High School including Supplemental, Developemental, and Senior Math, First Year Algebra, Geometry, Intermediate Algebra, Honors Intermediate Algebra, Math Analysis, Trigonometry, and Calculus. One nice change for those who took or are planning to take Calculus was students can now get a college credit for the class where in the past people would have to take another math class while in college in order to receive a credit!

"We're the wildest and craziest department in the school!" Mrs. Hunter

Mrs. Jane Hunter thinks this school's math department is the best around with excellent and qualified instructors.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

The Science Department offers a wide variety of classes. Everything from Biology to Horticulture. Biology, Chemistry, and Physics are all available as regular classes and honor classes. Many interesting science classes are also available as electives. Having these classes available encourages students to get involved in the science field.

The science staff consists of Mr. Roberts, Mr. Town, Mr. Chesler, Mrs. Ahten, Ms. Haas, Mrs. Piltaver, and Mrs. McCartney. According to Mrs. Piltaver "We have never had such an excellent staff as we do this year. They're very enthusiastic, work very hard, and have great concern for the students.

"Mrs. Piltaver gets into her lectures and makes class interesting" says Todd Grisim. Mrs. Piltaver teaches Biology and Horticulture. Jeff Doane states, "Mr. Chesler is the best teacher I have." Mr. Chesler teaches Chemistry and Astronomy.

Some of the goals set by the department are to improve class participation, make class interesting, and provide electives to allow everyone to take a science course they will enjoy. Our Science Department continues to improve and student involvement is increasing.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

For some people, deciding what to do after high school is a tough decision. The Business Education Department at Redmond High helps a lot with this big question. In business education students work for one or more certificates of proficiency in the Accounting, Business Sales, Marketing, and Secretarial fields. Classes in these fields help prepare students for the business world, and the certificates of proficiency make a favorable impression on a prospective employer.

In Accounting, the important skills of office bookeeping are learned. Students learn how to record business transactions, handle taxes, and use computers in business. In Business Sales students learn how to interview for a job, handle human relations, and operate in office situations. Typing and other front office duties are taught in the Secretarial class. In Marketing the principles of the American private enterprise system are learned through the DECA program. Under the DECA program students travel to conferences in places like Nevada, Oregon, and Wyoming and work in the student store to gain work experience. The Business Education Department prepares people for the business world, and helps to make the decision of what to do after High School an easy one.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Bonjour! Buenos Dias! Have you ever wanted to speak a foreign language or maybe just understand a foreign exchange student when he or she is yelling at you? If so, then foreign language is for you.

Spanish, French, and German were the three languages taught at Redmond High this year. In the past, some people have considered these classes to be boring because of all the memorizing that had to be done to do well. But this image has changed. Telva Richburg, a spanish teacher, says "We are trying to get the students to talk more and to make what they learn more relevant." In other words, the department is making it easier for the students to relate to what is learned.

For some students, a foreign language is the beginning of a great adventure. These people become exchange students to other countries, where they experience

ENGLISH

The English Department at RHS is striving to be one of the best in the nation. With the outstanding programs it has to offer and the experienced teachers, the program is already headed towards national recognition. "Our English Department stacks up very well against the English programs at other schools," boasted Elaine Hardin, head of the department. Even though the classes didn't change this past year, the emphasis on each class did. Some English classes were offered more times a semester because a larger number of students signed up. The American Literature class proved to be a very popular class this year as well as the Honors Program, taught by Doug Kimball, Michele D'Amico, and Elaine Hardin. Other highlights of the year were the drama class, pre-college writing, advanced writing, and RHS was very lucky to be one of the few schools with a debate club. "We are stronger than many," continued Mrs. Hardin. A majority of the students take at least two English classes during their high school career and have stronger writing and reading skills. These aspects are what makes RHS's English Department one of the best in the nation.

SOCIAL STUDIES

By concentrating on an already fine program, the Social Studies Department succeeded in having an outstanding curriculum for students. Without any new classes or instructors the faculty did their best to make classes more interesting and informative.

According to Mrs. Mary-Alice Burleigh, head of the department, "Redmond High School definately has one of the best Social Studies Department in the state with very qualified teachers." All full time instructors were history majors with math degrees and Dr. Roger Collisson has a Ph.D in the subject.

Students may chose from a variety of electives. For example, Psychology, the most popular elective for the year, deals with the mental side of social studies while The Future of Mankind, the second most chosen elective teaches what the world could be like in the future. Other choices were American Political Behavior, the Far East and USSR, Middle East and Latin America, The World Today, Sociology, and Film Art which can also be taken as an English elective.

Cheerleaders Add Spirit To RHS.

RAH!! RAH!! RAH!!

The cheerleaders proved that they had more spirit than ever before. At Tacoma's University of Puget Sound they attended a cheer camp from August 7-11. During those four days they were taught many different cheers and routines and later on performed before a crowd. They were judged on many qualities such as poise, spirit and rowdiness. Out of the 80 squads that were there, RHS received a trophy for most enthusiastic, two first and two second place ribbons, and the Spirit Stick. The Spirit Stick meant that the squad had true spirit and not just fake smiles. On Nov. 22 they attended a clinic for basketball and afterwards, with other squads, performed at a Sonics game during halftime.

In December there were two new additions to the cheersquad: Akili Smith and Cinque Finney.

NEVER SAY DIE

Redmond Football Fights Back To Make History.

The Redmond High School Football Team had a great year in 1986, finishing the season with a winning record of five and four. For the first time in Redmond history, the Mustangs went to the playoffs- but at the beginning of the season it didn't look as if they would go anywhere. Redmond lost their first two games to Bellevue and Newport, and everyone counted them out. Everyone, that is, except the Mustangs. Using a new, back-to-basics offense and ahrd hitting defense, Redmond beat cross-town rival Lake Washington. They went on to win five of their last seven games, with the only two losses coming from Interlake and Juanita. The loss to Kingbowl-bound Juanita was a heartbreaker where the Mustangs lost a close, hard-fought game that went down to the final seconds. The season came down to the final game, where Redmond was to play division-leading Woodinville. If Woodinville won they would clinch the division outright-

"The team had great leadership and a never-say-die attitude,"
-Jim Sampson

but a win by the Mustangs would throw the division into a four-way tie for first. The Mustangs rose to the occasion and hammered the Falcons 21 to zero in front of a huge home crowd. The team really pulled together and played hard to turn a slow start into a history- making season.

MUSTANGS RUN ON TO VICTORY

Girls' Cross-Country Shows Determination To Win

The girls' cross-country team pulled through another successful season. They finished off with a record of 9-3. The mustangs placed third in KingCo which qualified them for the district meet for the sixth year in a row. At district, they placed third again and went on to run at the state meet in Port Townsend.

At the top of the pack was Junior Debbie Sandgren and Sophomore Kelly Washburn. They both took turns having many victories. Close behind backing them up were Juniors Julie Degan, Kelly Stiger, Cindy Morgan, Leah Preston, Astrid Luebbe and Sophomore Mirium Lopez.

At the KingCo meet Debbie Sandgren finished sixth and Kelly Washburn Placed fifteenth. Along with their mustang pack they went on to the district and state meets to finish well there. Debbie Sandgren stated, "This year was made up of many tremendous efforts."

Team Captains and most valuable player awards were given to both Debbie Sandgren and Kelly Washburn. Kelly Stiger, Leah Preston and Cindy Morgan were voted most Inspirational for their encouragement and hard work to help the mustang girls excell in their 1986 cross-country season.

A GREAT SEASON

The Winning Streak Continues

Another successful year for the boys cross country team. At the completion of the duel meet season, the team stood undefeated with a 12-0 record, it was an outstanding accomplishment.

This years team won its sixth consecutive King-Co title. They also came in second place for the District title. Senior Stormy Shouman placed first in state for the second year in a row. Overall, the team came in third place.

A group of talented runners worked together to make this years team great. Seniors Craig Hanson, Dave Washburn and Stormy Shouman helped to build the experience and talent of the younger runners. Senior Craig Potter and Junior Derek Munson each ran well for the team. Mark Field commented on the coaches, "I really learned a lot from both Coach Zatloukal and Couch Villeneuve."

The captains of the team were Stormy Shouman and Craig Hanson. Most valuable was named David Washburn and Stormy. The most inspirational award was given to Craig Potter, Derek Munson, Craig Hanson and Jeff Dulong for their continuous support for the team.

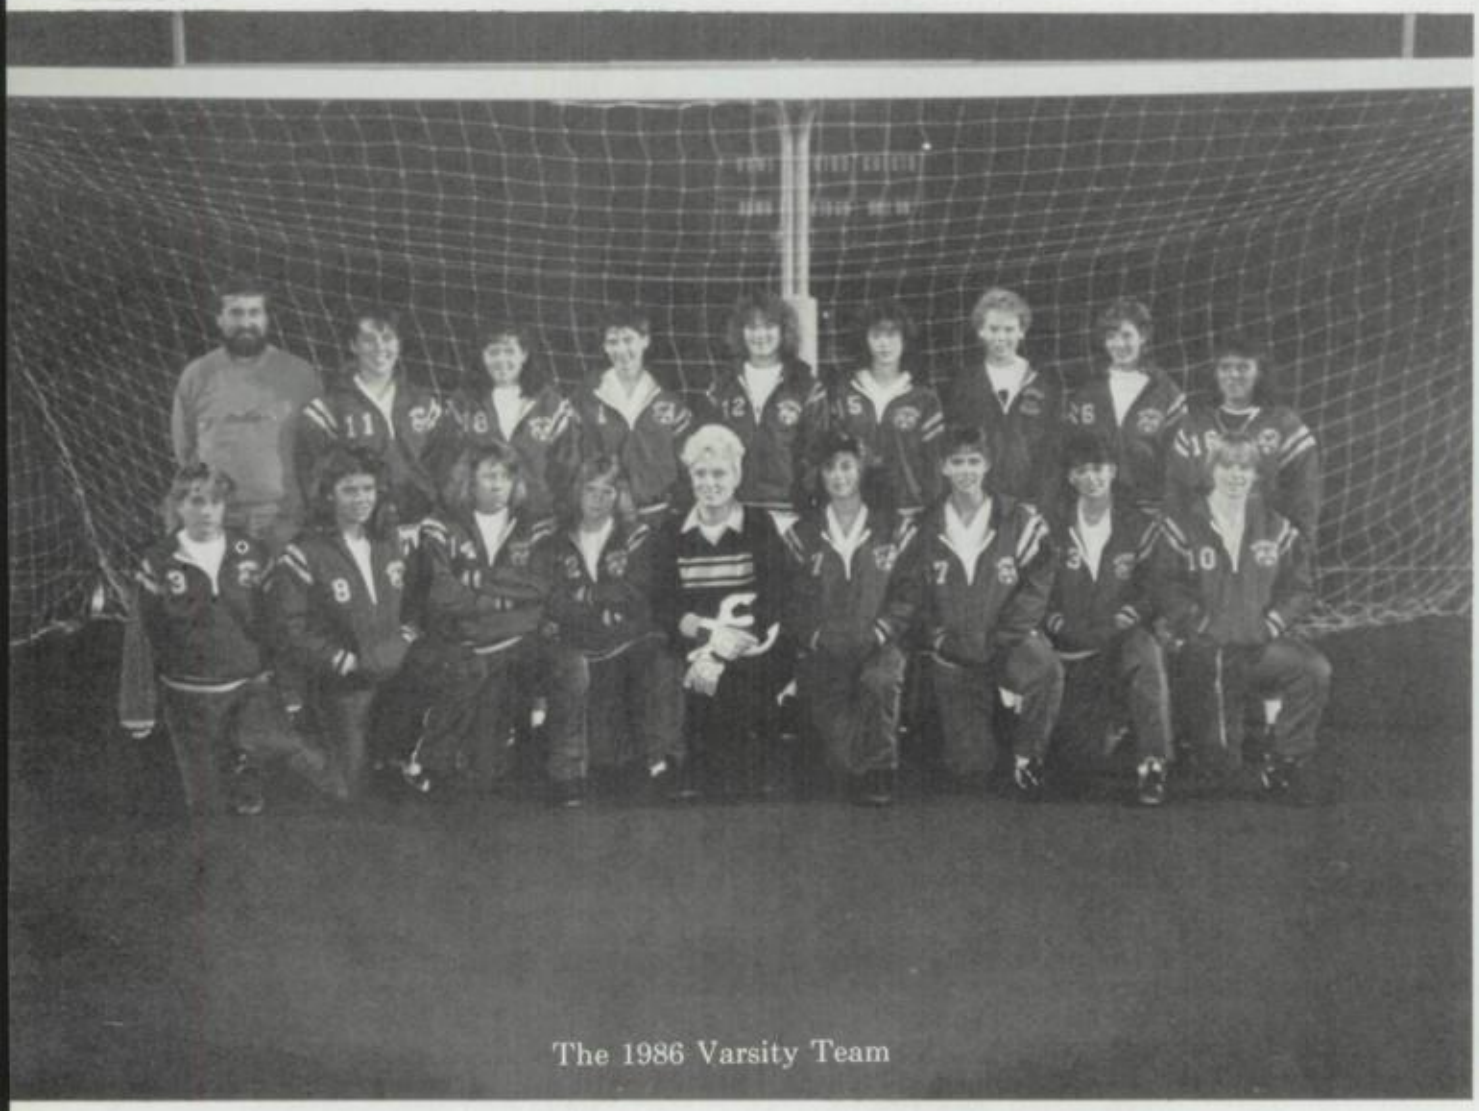
Girls Advance To KingCo Playoffs



The 1986 Varsity Team

Captain Erin Foltz talks strategy with Mr. Kimball before the game.

Girls soccer had an exciting season this year with five wins, two losses and five ties. They were one of the four out of thirteen teams that proceeded into the playoffs; but, they were eventually beat by Issaqua- who went on to get second in state. "I was pleased with our continued improvement," stated Mr. Doug Kimball, the coach of the team. Being relatively young, the team accomplished a lot and had a very successful year.

To top the season off, three players were chosen to be on the second Kingco team. They were sophomore Shandy Bautz, junior Wendy Jenkins, and senior Lisa Schneider. Juniors Erin Fultz and Keeley Schampera, and seniors Leslie Gray and Amy Hetzler were selected as honorable mentions to the team. The other varsity members this year were Susan Arnivik, Buffy Dickenson, Amy Kelleran, Heidi Lewis, Katie Mauk, Kristin Meek, Lisa Mezich, Jennifer Muenze, Jenny VandeVanter, Erin Webb, and Amy Wilson.

Talented Team Strives For Success

ACE AFTER ACE

The 1986-87 Boys' Tennis Team had an exciting and challenging year. Although they had a record of three wins (against Lake Washington, Issaquah, and Juanita) and 9 losses, the team showed much talent and enthusiam. Coached by Pete Barrett and Roy Deffinbaugh, the team demonstrated a great deal of spirit. The coaches contributed a great deal in this area too.

Despite the record, the statistics show that many of the lost matches were close ones. It is obvious that while the team didn't win a lot of matches, they had a lot of skill and experience.

The players all had fun and learned a lot this season.

"It was very interesting and fun. We look to be very good next year," stated Sean Hillier.

All of the team members are looking forward to next year. The team should be strong and experienced.

Players Give Other Teams A Run For Their Money

VOLLEYBALL SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

The 1986 varsity volleyball team

"Faster, run faster," were the words yelled everyday by junior varsity coach Becky Stone as the girls volleyball team prepared for a tough days workout. Each day they faced a tiring practice. They began with 20 minutes of jumps, sprints, and rolls and ended with 30 minutes of hard conditioning. By having an emphasis placed on physical conditioning, the girls improved a great deal.

Anne Lamken and Becky Stone became the two new coaches who had previously played for the University of Washington. They were able to lead the varsity team to their best season in ten years. Although they only won three matches, many were close ones ending with tie breakers. Next year all but three players will be returning to the varsity squad and Coach Lamken said at the end of the season, "We've got the potential for a real strong team next year!"

The 1986 varsity volleyball team included Michelle Miller, Melissa Bohm, Yasuko Nishigaki, Adaela Drew, Amy Raymond, Mary Ann Greene, Kim Miles, Jeanine Sharpe, Kym Thomas, Danielle Shoults, and Jenny Gore.

SPLASH TO THE TOP

The 1986 girls' swim team was a little bit bigger than last year. There were no divers, but they had enough talent to win a couple of meets and place 8th in the state. The team started out with 26 girls and ended the season with 19.

At the district meet, they came in 7th in the medley relay and placed in the 400yd. free relay. Jenny Money, Karen Lauve and Barbie Blaylock swam well in the 50yd. freestyle; Jenny and Karen also placed in the 100yd. freestyle. In the 100yd. backstroke Barbi came in 2nd place and Erin Sweet finished in 7th.

Don Burton, the Redmond swimming coach, commented that this year's team was bigger than last year's and had a lot of potential.

"We had a much better season than last year," said Karen Lauve, senior.

Two of the swimmers also placed in the state competition. They are: Barbi Blaylock and Jenny Money.

"It was a very good season." - Coach Burton

As there are many new and younger swimmers, the team will be able to gain momentum in the coming seasons.

BEST EVER
Boys' Swimming Team Goes To State

The boy's swimming team had their best season ever this year as a result of their hard work and talent. The members were coached by Don Burton, who has coached since the team started in 1978.

Practices started in November every day after school and lasted until the State Championship in the last week of February. Beginners were welcome, as they had time to improve after school from 2:30 - 4:00. The team was successful, with six wins and two losses. Four members, Jason Blaylock, a ninth grader, Steve Barth, Paul Van Sant, and Doug Winter, went to the State Championship at the University of Washington.

One of the highlights of the year was beating both Lake Washington and Juanita High Schools for the first time. A new school record was set in the Medley Relay by the four swimmers who went to State.

Coach Burton felt that the group was very talented, and that next year,

"We enjoyed our best season ever."- Jim Stickels

since only a few members graduated, would be another great year. Because of their dedication, the 1986-87 boy's swimming team was the best it has ever been.

LUCKY SEVEN

Girls' Basketball Makes History

It was the most successful season ever for Redmond High School girls basketball. As the season started, they achieved the Lucky Seven by winning the first seven games of the year.

The varsity team, led by captains Melissa Bohm and Julie Stephens, made Kinco and the Sea King playoffs for the second straight year. They ended the season with an outstanding record of 16-8.

Varsity players included seniors Julie Stephens, Amy Hetzler and Melissa Bohm. The juniors were Erica Landvetter, Stephanie Lindley, Deseri Rials and Mary Ann Greene. The lone sophomore was Shawn Simpson.

Junior varsity showed a strong girls basketball program for the years to come, by winning the Kinco J.V. title with a 19-1 record.

"This season started out with seven straight wins and a lot of enthusiasm. It carried us through the Kinco league playoffs and into the Sea King district playoffs and into the tournaments for the second straight year. The teams accomplishments demonstrates the fruits of hard work and dedication. I am very proud of these groups," said Coach Nelson, summing up the girls basketball season.

"It was the best season ever. I will be sad to leave it."

A GREAT SUCCESS

BOYS GO TO SEAKING DISTRICT TOURNAMENT FOR SECOND STRAIGHT YEAR

The Mustang basketball teams deserve to be commended on their performances this last season. The goal of the teams is to play well (and win, of course) and learn not only the rules of the game, but also the rules of life. The varsity squad faced quite a challenge with the introduction of a new coach. Mr. Koester has made a priceless addition to our teaching and coaching staff. He claims, "My greatest satisfaction was watching a group of young men come together as a team and develop as players and mature as individuals."

An unbelievable record of 16-4 in the regular season took a fair amount of dedication and strength on the players' parts as well as the coaches'. They managed a 1-1 record in the KingCo and 1-2 in the SeaKing tournaments. Ken Williams and Gary Patterson made the all KingCo second team and Scott Roberts and Rick Roble received honorable mention. Though some great seniors are graduating this year, there is much talent emerging on the horizon for next year.

"This season was a very challenging and rewarding one for me as a first year coach."— Coach Jerry Koester Confidence: An absolute surety of precision together with the workings of determination leads to the attainment of perfection. Building on a foundation of rigorous training, the gymnastic scholar pursues a degree of physical excellence." These words were spoken by the gymnastics coach Kim Jagla as she and her assistant Carrie McWhriter led the girls on to a great season.

A YEAR OF PROGRESS

Despite Their Defeats, Gymnasts Have A Fun Season

According to the coach the team really improved this past year although they graduated a good senior which really hurt the team. Coach Jagla also said that she had a strong group of talented and hard working girls and that next year should be even better since they have some good gymnasts coming to Redmond High!

There are four gymnastic events one can compete in. They are: The uneven bars, the balance beam, the vault and floor acts.

Junior Michelle Phillips placed first place at regionals on the balance beam and fifth place at state on the beam.

"We had a good team, better than before!" Leslie Baus

"We're a lot better this year. We showed a lot of energy and had a lot of fun!" said Mary Miller.

RISING UP

Young Team Fights Hard.

Before the 1986-87 wrestling season even started, things did not look good for the Redmond Mustangs. After a strong season last year, graduation left the team with very few returning varsity wrestlers. This led to a team made up predominently of sophomores and juniors, which for the most part were young and inexperienced. In some matches during the season, the Mustangs had as many as ten sophomores in the thirteen member varsity line-up. They wrestled against seasoned opponents who were mostly seniors. The lack of age and experience might have daunted a lesser team, but not the Redmond Mustangs. They fought their way to a 7-11 record, better than anyone expected-everyone except the wrestlers, that is. Through hard work, determination, and courage they gave what could have been a disasterous season for Redmond Wrestling a fighting chance. Their hard work was obvious as the season progressed, as the team improved greatly with every match.

At the end of the season, two wrestlers advanced past the KingCo Tournament: J.D. Shampera and Rob Washburn. Shampera was voted team captain and most inspirational, and advanced all the way to the state tourney after taking first in KingCo. Although wrestling had a tough season in 1986-87, the young team will be back a year older, wiser, and better in '88.

A BIG hit!

The 1986-87 Annual Staff

MUSTANG LIFE

A Revista to be Remembered

The 1986-87 Annual Staff worked diligently to make the Revista the best it could be. The Mustang Life Magazine theme was a unique twist. Members of the Annual Staff had numerous responsibilities. People who worked on the pages had to meet deadlines with quality pages. Two editors of the Revista shared the responsibilities that one editor would normally carry out. The editors, Melody Rockwell and Hilary Starling, commented, "There is no way we ever could have done it alone!!" They both made sure everything was accomplished on time and done with great care. They were always working and never stopped. There was a great amount of dedication in the class. Everyone strived to create an interesting annual that all the students would enjoy.

Photography was also a major part of the annual production. Pictures were taken and developed with care and creativity. The photography editors were Kris Carney, Gina Evanson, and Greg Porter. Wendy Rieger and Rob Dunn, experienced photographers, when asked stated "We strive for excellence in our pictures." Each page person chose his or her pictures and it was the photographer's responsibility to develop them. Cooperation and communication

"There is no way we ever could have done it alone!!"-Editors Hilary Starling and Melody Rockwell was a necessity in getting along. Doug Kimball, The Annual Staff advisor, added "The staff had a lot of creative ideas to make this years book unique. I think the students will enjoy it." The 1986-87 Annual Staff worked hard toward the goal of making this year's Revista the best ever.

86-87 JOURNALISM STAFF

THE BLAZE STRIVES FOR THE BEST

The student newspaper, The Blaze, went through some changes this year. The main difference for them was having a new instructor, Doc Salisbury. This was Doc's first year of doing this and to say the least, he did a great job. One of the staff members, Scott Capestany, stated that he likes the way Doc works with the group and relates to them.

The dedicated staff worked long hours after school to make their paper the best it could be, and to meet their deadlines on time. This was called "latenight" which was often a hectic time for the page editors.

The process of producing a paper takes about a month. The stories were chosen and assigned, and the reporters and photographers spent approximately two weeks to interview people and produce appropriate pictures. After they felt they had done a quality paper, they then sent it to the Sammamish Valley News to be printed out.

A class like this helps students to work with each other as a team, because without every individuals effort, the paper would not be a success. "As a new student at RHS, The Blaze provided good times and good friends I never would have had without this class." said Christy Craig, photo editor.

A year of excitement, adventure, involvement, and success.

DECA DOMINATES

This year has been one of excitement, adventure, involvement, and success for DECA. With the largest marketing program in the state, Redmond High's DECA strives not only to be the biggest, but also the best.

At competitions the hard work of the students definitely paid off. The Area 2 competitions were held at Bellevue Square this year, with a record 180 students participating from RHS. 63 of those students received awards, giving Redmond DECA the most winners at Area 2.

DECA participants also did a lot of traveling. Conferences were held in Salt Lake City, the Sea Tac Red Lion, and New York City. Students attend these conferences to hear speakers on various business-related topics, and for the social aspects.

In RHS itself, DECA puts on many of its own activities. The Gift Wrap, Pumpkin Carving Contest, Fashion Show, and Pizza Eating Contest are just a few of these. The DECA Student Store is also open all year, and gives students a chance to practice the skills they learn in a realistic situation.

DECA's teachers Mr. Barr, Mr. Sampson, Mrs. Goodwin, and Mrs. Henselman have all worked together with their enthusiastic students to make this year in DECA an exciting and memorable one.

TOGETHERNESS

ASB Brings Unity to RHS

Redmond High started off the 1986-87 school year with a new and enthusiastic group of ASB officers. They had a leadership retreat, held at Redmond High, to plan the three major goals. These goals were 1) to improve staff and student attitudes, spirit, increase motivation and create unity within RHS. 2) improve communication between community, schools, staff and students and 3) to create a balance in the atmosphere between academics and activities.

With the organization and effort of President J.D. Schampera, Vice president George Dyer, Secretary Anne Tallman, Treasurer Yvonne Watt and Parliamentarian Stephanie Bartron these goals began to take shape during the year.

Homecoming was one of ASB's main activities. Involvement of the students presented a unifying effect towards the Organization of assemblies, Homecoming half-time entertainment and the Homecoming dance. The pep assemblies were a great success, they built up more spirit from the students then in past years.

The organization and togetherness of the ASB brought the school many accomplishments in the 1986-87 year. Anne Tallman described ASB's efforts- "The creativity of the ASB officers is used to provide new and fun activities for the students."

"The ASB is team work."

SUDDS INVOLVES STUDENTS

The 1986-87 SUDDS class was a success. They involved many in the idea of having fun without drugs or alcohol.

SUDDS, Students Understanding Drinking and Drugging Students, was advised for the first time by Mr. Bain this year. Mr. Bain says of the class, "We want people to enjoy life without drugs or alcohol."

The SUDDS class signed a pledge stating, "I, being a member of SUDDS, will abstain from drinking and taking drugs for the remainder of the school year." This action encouraged others to follow, and some 600 students signed a similar pledge for SUDDS.

The SUDDS class did many things this year for the community. In 1986, they were in articles in the Seattle Times. In November, a dance at Bellevue Square was sponsored by SUDDS, where they made around 3000 dollars. Then, the group put on an assembly. The speakers from Alcoholics Anonymous and Narcotics Anonymous showed that problems were not too far away. This promoted the referral program, where students could get help or parents could request help from the class.

SPAM DOES IT AGAIN

Two Successful Years In A Row

Students Protesting Against Mediocrity (alias: SPAM) is a club for people that want to express imagination and creativity. This club was founded by three boys that graduated from RHS last year.

The club advisor is (as always) Mr. Hargraves. The purpose of this organization is as follows: "MEDIOCRITY — The major force behind the cliques at our school. Our club is formed to push off the old rags and form a philosophy that might make it not impossible to form a group but a collection to help make our school a place of individuality. All are encouraged to join." (Taken from the SPAM constitution).

The officers are as follows: Grand Poobah SPAM, Rick Barrett; Sort Of Head SPAM, Rob Rasmussen; SPAM Calligrapher, Pam Simms; and Figurehead, Randall Creek.

SPAM was the first non-class to submit a float at Homecoming titled "Hands Across SPAM".

1987 is the 50th anniversary of the establishment of SPAM. Mr. Hargraves was quoted as saying, "Of all the clubs at Redmond, this is certainly one of them."

HELPING NATURALLY

Staff And Students Alike Are Involved.

There is a unique program here at Redmond High called Natural Helpers. Students and staff are chosen to be part of this program. It is not a class or a club, but a group of people who work individually with people who have problems. Students' problems are not necessarily always crises, Anything they would like to talk about can be discussed with their peers. Natural Helpers are chosen by their peers. The top ten seniors, juniors, and sophomores are selected. The students that were in Natural Helpers in junior high are asked if they join and continue their work.

All of the students and staff go on a retreat to train in listening and referral skills. The total number of students at Redmond in Natural Helpers is 106 and there are 18 trained staff members including two administrators.

Mrs. Kuykendall is the advisor and is also a trained Natural Helper. She has them meet each month to report on their progress. Mrs. Kuykendall stated that the "staff involvement is incredible this year."

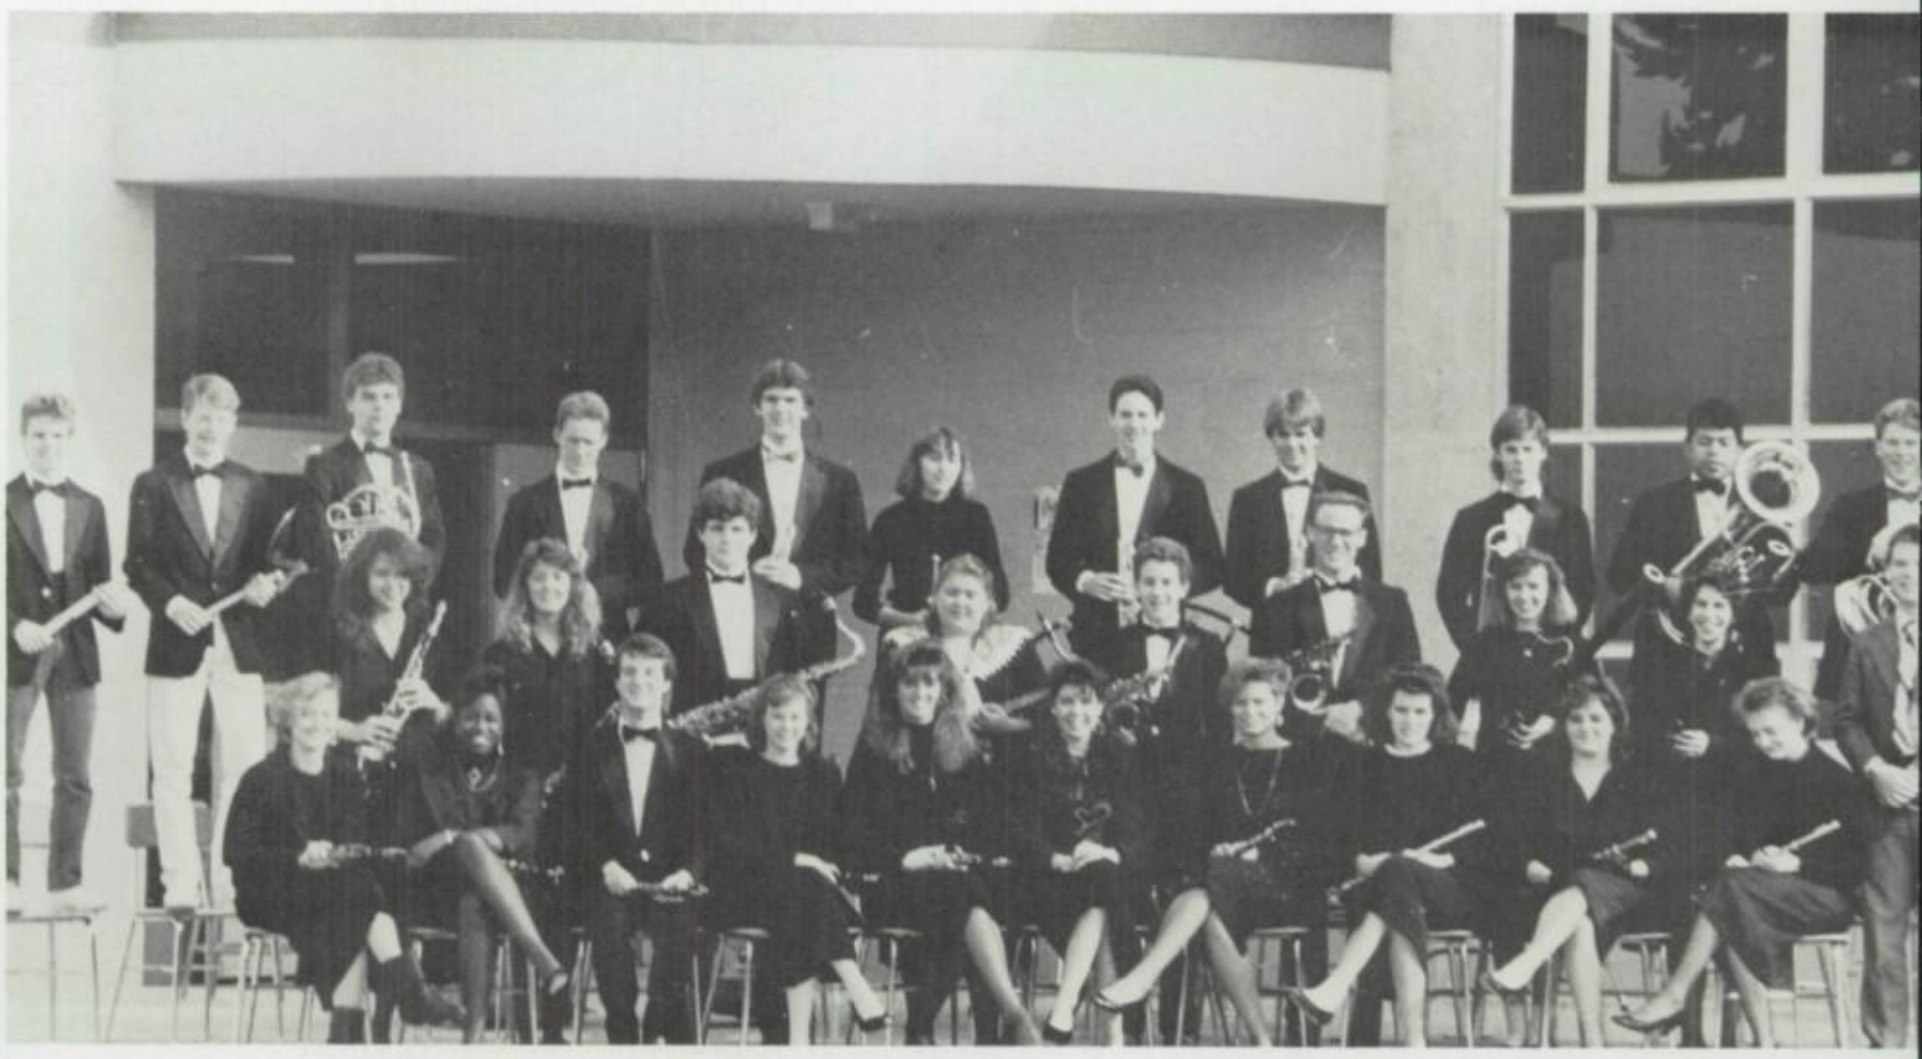
The 1986-87 Symphonic Band.



A Class Act

EASY LISTENING

The RHS 1986-87 Band was truly a success. The group consisted of two parts: Symphonic Band, being the more advanced musicians, and Concert Band-the sophomore musicians. This combination created a group that was a mixture of many talents.

Directed for the first year by John Logan, the band generated enthusiasm towards their work.

"We work really hard, but we have fun too," Mike Lesko commented.

Doing numerous concerts and competitions provided the band the opportunity to show off their talents, and since the band has grown by about 50 members, that talent is widespread.

"There is a lot of talent here," said David Bussey.

The band has taken some time this year to get organized. Some days they would take time out just to talk things over and get it all together. There was a lot of teamwork involved.

The band officers for 1986-87 were: President-Larry Fransson, Vice-President- Hugh Dodd, Secretary-David Farmer, and Drum Major- Kevin Gutteron.

"We work hard, but we have fun, too."

Band has successful year.

Through hard work and dedication, the 1986-87 Jazz Band had an exciting and fulfilling year.

The band consisted of 27 members. All showed enthusiasm and dedication towards making it a great year. Every morning before school, the group met and practiced for an hour. They also put in after-school time. All the hard work paid off, and the band had a very rewarding year.

"For the first time, the Jazz Band received a perfect "ten" in Marysville," said Susie Nelson.

The band was led by a new director, John Logan, who has already contributed a great deal to the group.

Adam Coble commented, "We've got a good new director, and things are looking up for RHS Band in the future."

Throughout the course of the year, the group had a total of about 38 commitments, including concerts, competitions, basketball, and football games. They also travelled up to Canada in May, after raising $3900, to compete in a marching competition.

"We have a lot more spirit this year."

MUSIC TO YOUR EARS

Students ranked in top five in State

Girls chorus and Concert choir had a great year. Both choirs performed well in their concerts and captivated audiences. Concert choir in the 86-87 school year was excellent. The choir engaged in a great many activities. One of the highlights was a trip to Euphrata and Spokane. While in Spokane, Redmond High students stayed with other students, enabling them to share knowledge and experiences.

The Concert choir was chosen as one of the top five high school choirs in the state by the University of Washington, a great achievement.

Another honor was awarded to the choir. Two of its members, were chosen to go to a state competition. Lisa Duncan won the mezzo soprano category and Christina Liu was chosen as first alternate for alto.

Pam Smith summed up her experiences in Concert choir by saying, "Choir has enlightened my life and music has given my soul reason to soar."

Girl's chorus did quite well. This is a learning choir, but the girls were very dedicated, taking private lessons in addition to the training they received in class.

CHOIR

SWINGING! . . . SINGERS

Showing great dedication to Music

"Jazz choir is a higher learning and understanding of jazz and our vocal capabilities." stated choir member Adam Coble.

Jazz choir is a group of the most vocally talented students at Redmond High. Each member must audition for one of the sought after positions in the choir. In addition each person in Jazz choir must also belong to Concert choir. This requires great dedication and talent on the part of the musicians. They were required to learn the music from both choirs which takes time and effort.

In the 86-87 school year, Mr. Hardin (the director) placed a great emphasis on learning about the jazz that they were singing.

In Jazz choir the students had to learn how to sing on microphones and learn to be comfortable singing solo, two challenging prospects for most.

The choir traveled to many clinics during the year to learn more about jazz and partake in competitions.

Erin Snodgrass, choir president, had this to say, "I'm really pleased with the enthusiasm and co-operation I've seen in both groups . . . especially Jazz choir."

Grease is the word

A HUGE SUCCESS

When the musical Grease was performed last November at Redmond High it was a huge success. The 2½ hours of rehearsal every day after school paid off the cast.

The stage was set in the 1950's at Rydell High where the T-Birds and the Pink Ladies rule the school.

The whole play was centered around Sandy, a new girl in town and Danny, the leader of the T-birds as they tried to bring back the relationship they had the previous summer.

Before this happens though, they had a few problems. This was partly because Sandy was not "cool" enough for Danny and also because Patti the cheerleader was after him too. But in the end Danny and Sandy get back together and Patti is left out in the cold.

The main Characters were Sandy (Cheryl DeShon), Danny (Adam Coble), Frenchie (Toni Luxenberg), Kenikie (Tony Fulgham), Rizo (Kristin Colliander), and Patti (Jeanette Braaten).

A FOREIGN AFFAIR

International Club starts the year off right.

The International Club is a club for students who share an interest in the people, places, and languages of the world. This year's club consisted of about 35 students and was directed by Telva Richburg. Their purpose was to achieve a cultural exchange and to offer members knowledge of other countries than their own.

The International Club started its 1986-87 year off with the successful International Night, their biggest event. It was an evening specifically for International Club members, foreign language students, their families, and the faculty. International Night included dancing, singing, a play, and displays, all in varied foreign languages and traditions. There was also authentic foods from many different countires. The night concluded with the breaking of a pinata made by club members.

After this big event, the International Club continued its meetings during activity periods. At these meetings, the club chose specific countries to study, and often hears guest speakers. The dedication of the International Club members and Mrs. Richburg helped make the group's year an interesting and productive one.

STUDENTS GET INVOLVED

The Honor Society gives support and time to the community.

The Honor Society of the 1986-87 school year had approximately one hundred and fifty members. The officers were: Karen Lauve, President; Debbie Sandgren, Vice President; Same Fowler, Treasure; and Jennifer Morris, Secretary. The advisors were Mrs. Elaine Hardin and Mrs. Mary Alice Burleigh.

The Honor Society is a national organization for students excelling academically and who have the following qualities: scholarship, good character, leader skills and a desire to do community service. In order to be accepted into the Honor Society, the students needed to have a 3.5 grade point average and two teacher recomendations. "I think Honor Society is an effective way to recognize academic achievement as well as to encourage participation in extracuricular activities," says Mrs. Burleigh.

New to the Honor Society during the 1986-87 school year was their assistance with the Special Olympics. Other activities included choosing the teacher of the month and caroling for the senior citizens during the Christmas season.

"The Honor Society is a good group to work with. They are busy students but they take time to care." Mrs. Hardin.

Stang Letter Club Gives Athletes Support

NEW CLUB ESTABLISHED

Redmond High experienced the introduction of a newly formed club this year, the Stang Letter Club. The Letter Club is open to any person who has lettered in a sport. The advisor, Dave Chesler, and president, Scott Russell, have worked hard at establishing the Letter Club at RHS, along with setting the goals and purposes of the Club. Other officers are: Rick Mueller, vice president, Heidi Lewis, secretary, and Wendy Jenkins, treasurer.

The Stang Letter Club's purpose at RHS is to form a group of supporters for all athletes in all athletic events, and to promote drug-free athletics. The 20-25 members take turns at attending all sports to root their fellow athletes on. The Letter Club holds its meetings during activity periods, and before school.

Running the basketball concession stand was the Letter Club's main form of fund-raising. They also sold sweatshirts with the Club name and emblem on them. Throughout the year, the Club voted on and publicized the athlete of the month, and the scholar athelte of the year.

For its first year as a club at RHS, the Stang Letter Club has accomplished a lot, and made itself well known. The future looks very promising for the Club, due to the great dedication of this year's members.

GETTING INVOLVED

The Key Club helps the community

"Caring-our way of life," was the motto that the Key Club followed this year. This program is a service organization which enables the students to get involved in helping the community. Leadership ability, good citizenship practices, and the development of initiative are all positive traits that members of the Key Club exhibit. "It gives people self-satisfaction of helping others," says President Amy Peck.

This year, the program focused a lot on the senior citizens. At Christmas, they went to the center to sing to them, and throughout the year individual members went to visit the seniors on their birthdays. The Key Club also sponsored the airplane flying contest at one of the basketball games.

The supervisor of the Key Club this year was Tim Barr. Members included: Amy Peck, President, Kelli Roberts, Vice President, Randall Creek, Secretary, and Eric Lucas, Treasurer. Overall it was a great year for the Key Club!

CHESS CLUB

Chess Club returns to state once again

The 1986-87 hess Club was composed of hard-working, dedicated competitors. There were five members. These were Randall Creek, Captain, David Santosuosso, George Chang, Jeff Muter, and Dave Russell. Two of the team's significant members were lost to the exchange program. These two members were Alex Hannemann and Jorg Helbig.

The team finished in second place behind Lake Washington. They played nine matches and lost only two of them. Chess involves a great deal of time and concentration. Chess players must always be thinking ahead about what their next moves will be. Four members of last year's team graduated so there was a great deal of question about who would turn out for the Chess Club. Randall Creek, the Chess Club Captain, is the only returning player. He says, "I was really impressed with this year's new and talented team."

The Chess team began strong this year and finished strong regardless of the loss of two players. David Santosuosso was undefeated and made a great amount of progress. Mr. Hargraves, the Chess Club advisor, comments that, "This year's team developed into a real contending team, one of the strongest teams in the league. I was very pleased with how quickly our young team gained experience." The team, with their second place finish, qualified for the state tournament this year.

ARGUE TO WIN

Debaters Work To Reach State

Brian Fox loves to win.

The Debate Club was a group of people who like to persuade and argue constructively. They are inquisitive and tend to have the desire to act a little bit. The club had many ojbectives. The students understand the principles of argumentation and competitive debating. Acquiring skill and proficiency in techniques of analysis and research is important to debate. Developing skills in orderly and persuasvie presentation is significant to the delivery of a debate. Developing judgement and objectivity in the analysis of controversial subjects are skills used to help present your topic. Competition is a large part of debate and students are more mature in handling pressures. These skills were improved with practice and debates provided a great learning experience.

dent Randall Creek, Vice President Grace Wang, and Secretary Jayme Stubbs. The Debate Club went to a number of tournaments. Each individual received points and an overall individual ranking. Competition between individuals is the main objective of debates. The team doesn't win and lose and there is no point system.

Doc Salisbury, the club advisor, says "The 1986-87 Debate Club has been one of the very best fielded by Redmond High School in the past decade." The Debate team goes to a district tournament this spring that determines which individuals (not the entire team) will compete in the state competitions.

To The Editors. . .

Dear Editors,

Redmond High School is a very special place. It has come to mean a great deal to me in the short time I have been in Washington, U.S.A.

People thought I was crazy or courageous to leave my home, my family, and my friends, and live in a foreign country for a year. I saw it as a challenge-a chance to meet people and to experience another way of life. I know I made the right decision.

I am a Rotary exchange student from Hohannesburg, South Africa. I am used to sunshine all year round, summer in December, temperature in Celcius and driving on the left-hand-side of the road!

But Redmond is my new home and Redmond High is full of friendly people. In the beginning, everything was so new and different for me. The variety of classes astounded me: aerobics-as a class? I loved it. 'G.P.A.', 'late tokens', and 'tardies' were new words to add to my growing vocabulary. My teachers were very understanding and interested in me and my country, which made me feel welcome and wanted.

I shall never forget the excitement of my first assembly and the explosive atmosphere at the basketball game against Roosevelt: the punchy pep band, the cheerleaders who championed the cause, the togetherness of the team, and the chanting crowd.

The spirit at Redmond High is something so real you can almost touch it. It surrounds the students and unites them. It is an inspiration to GO FOR IT; to strive for excellence.

It is always the students who make a school what it is. At RHS, the halls abound with dedicated, motivated people who are determined to succeed. But above all, they care about themselves and about other people, RHS allows its students to develop as human beings instead of computer printouts.

Sharing the feeling — that is what RHS is all about.

Yours faithfully,
Lee-Anne Patterson

Dear Lee Anne,

Redmond High School really is a special place. Most of us take for granted the people and atmosphere here at R.H.S. The high value you give it should set an example for us all.

Enjoy Yourself!
The Editors, Hilary and Melody
